

STAR YOUTH ASSOCIATION (SYA) - CHETHANA PROJECT, GOOTY.

2. Change to cultivation in organic

Dharmapuram is village of Gooty Mandal in Anantapur district. In this village 200 families are resident. Each farmer having 1 to 2 acres land; these all families are very poor depend on only rain fed based agriculture. At that time of rainy season we are cultivated Ground nut. If the rains are fall at this time the crops are growing not better, otherwise if not are suffering for food, we are migrated to other towns Guntur and Tadipatri.

So at that time the Star Youth Association (SYA) introduced to CHETHANA Project in the village of Dharmapuram. In this project to advise farmers, less expenditure less water crops which are cultivating by organic methods to started more awareness programmes in our village like World food day, Nutrition Education Training and Non Pesticide Management Training (NPM) etc; and also these project inform to the farmers to cultivated millets in organic methods. In our houses we are preparing organic decoctions and used our farms. We are not use chemicals in our farms. So in every year we are also cultivating 1 or 1.5 acres in organic methods will be cultivated millets.

SYA-CHETHANA Project Conduct a Non Pesticide Management Training

SYA-CHETHANA Project conduct a Nutrition Education Training

By this we are protecting in our health and also protecting our children's health's we are giving non pollution diet by seeing this methods our neighbor village Bachupalli more farmers are cultivated millets. Like this project we are also participation it is our lucky
